WE NOMINATE

Frank Wallace Notestein, internationally known president of The Population Council, a Princetonian for some three decades, and one of America's most respected representatives in the world's developing nations. Over the weekend, as he cheerfully disregarded his 63rd birthday, this remarkable analyst of the "multiplying problems of populations" was a key factor in the success of the First Pan-American Assembly on Population which in the conservatively Roman Catholic country of Colombia sponsored free-wheeling discussions of controlling population growth in Latin America, the continent with the highest growth rate.

This historic gathering in Colombia, attracting more than 150 political leaders, churchmen, population scientists and medical men, was grappling with what President Johnson has called "this most profound challenge to the future of all of the world." In a nutshell, the world is now adding more than 165,000,000 people a year. All of human history up to about 1850 produced a world population of one billion; however, it took only 75 years (1925) for the second billion; and 35 years (1960) for the third; at the present rate it is taking only 15 years (1975) for the fourth and it will require only another ten years (1985) for the fifth billion.

Coinciding with the Colombia meetings, which this week are being pondered in Washington and Latin American capitals, was the publication of the 12-year history of The Population Council, the influential but little publicized organization Notestein has directed since 1959. This memorable 64-page report, representing "only an instant in the history of man" but yet "time enough for more than a billion persons to be born, for about half that number to die, and for the world's population to increase by some 20 per cent," accentuates the devotion of Notestein and his associates to the essential task: keeping "the quantity of human life from diminishing the quality of human life."

The son of a college professor, and a graduate of Wooster College (Ohio) and Cornell University, the Michigan-born Notestein has been enamored with the "dynamics of population" since his graduate years at Cornell in the mid-1920's. It was under his guidance during the period 1936-1959 that Princeton University's Office of Population Research, a research section within the expanding Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, evolved its unique and broadly based program concerned with what Notestein describes as "the ever-shifting human contents of the world."

Indicative of Notestein's impact in human affairs have been his noteworthy services as consultant to the Government of the United States, to any number of foreign governments and to the United Nations. And, in promoting a better understanding of population questions by fostering scientific training and research in the social, economic and medical fields, he doesn't hesitate to remind Americans that the most densely populated areas in the world today include not only Japan and Java, and East Pakistan and the Netherlands, but also the eastern seaboard of the United States from Boston to Washington.

For his contributions in moving men and nations from "there-is-a-problem to something-is-being-done"; for helping develop The Population Council in such a way that "crucial years" may have been saved in coping with population growth; for his achievements as teacher and research scientist; he is our nominee as

"GOFERS" DIG AWAY At Summer Jobs.

"You're called a go-fer," explains Kitzi Becker of 350 State Road, "because you do about everything."

The gofers, all high school or college students, are adding considerable zest to the summer scene, no matter where or what their jobs may be. "Everything" ranges from errands, to running no-smiling contests, to research.

For Kitzi, "everything" includes painting scenery, working the lights and mikes and a hundred other things at Trenton's Theatre in the Park. Hard work maybe, and crazy hours, but handy. She hopes to major in some aspect of the theatre in college after her senior year at Princeton Day Schools.

The Borough hired five gofers this summer, one more than last year. Bob Anderson, son of Police Lt. Robert J. Anderson, is working as a surveyor before taking up engineering at Lafayette this fall.

Bob Mooney, son of the Borough administrator, and Paul Wooten are "doing a little bit of everything," according to Donald T. Haney, assistant to the Borough engineer. The drainage study was handled by Steve Halpern, a senior at Stevens Institute, and Bob Adams is spending his third summer in Borough employ doing the sidewalk survey and revisions to the sewer master plan.

Guinea Pigs at ETS. Among the batch of teenagers serving as guinea pigs for Educational Testing Service are Carl Trieseit, Greg Reynolds, Albert Pullen, Bob Miller and Wes Cawley, all Princeton High School students. Carl and Wes also worked at the Lions Den day camp, and on the theory that you pick up a little here a little there, Wes has added a three-day week at TOWN TOPICS to his schedule.

Putting first things first, and why not, a number of students have found jobs around food. Ken Lyons is working at Stewart's Root Beer; Larry Butterfoss at the A & P and Janet Suydam is a cashier at Renwick's. In fact, Renwick's took on six gofers: Kathy Donald, s PHS junior; Carol Kunnos, a Potsdam University student; Hildegarde Goepp, a Vassar girl; Joseph Squitiere of Trenton Junior College, and Charles Ostroff, Wagner College.

Hot dogs, popcorn and soda pop for 35,000 baseball fans are daily concerns for Charlie Stuart of 34 Mercer Street, a Dartmouth senior. He's employed by Stevens California Enterprises which holds the concession for Candlestick Park, home of the San Francisco Giants. It's a great job when the wind dies down.

About 100 gofers are all over Princeton University and Princeton. Nancy Sussman is working in a biology laboratory. Gladys Irish in the development office. Some are doing typing and general clerical work, others are washing laboratory glassware or conducting experiments and collecting data.

A crew of young men has been shoving desks and file cabinets into the University's new buildings. There has been a gradual increase in the number of summer jobs for students, according to Bruce Edwards of the personnel office at Princeton. "The young people are a great help. They often come back as graduate students or full-time employees, especially in the engineering field."

Summer Camps Are Popular. Outdoor lovers have headed for summer camps. Charlotte Yoder is a counselor in Vermont, Nancy Smoyer on an Arizona ranch, George Mikstal at Arrowhead, Barbara Konover at the Princeton playgrounds and Anne Chericek is waterfront director at Edgewater Creeke Camp. Another batch is teaching tennis to beginners in the Community Tennis Program.

The variety of jobs they find seems infinite. Leslie Vivian works in Trenton's Operation Headstart, David Smoyer in a law office and Craig Lippincott is a desk clerk in the Poconos. Bill Bretnall, an architecture student at Western Reserve, is involved in the construction of the new Princeton Public Library through his summer job with architect Thaddeus Longstreth.

Sally Strayer is serving in a state mental hospital as a member of the Connecticut Service Corps. Bob Greenberg, Dorothy Worthington, Ellie Geiken and Rena Spaide have found jobs at the N.J. Neuro-Psychiatric Institute. Alan Bernhardt and Michael Steele are getting an insider's view of IBM and Ellen Golden is summer relief at McGraw Hill.

Among the many Princeton area firms which have hired students is RCA, where they are working as stenographers, clerks, groundsmen, research technicians and assistant scientists, depending upon their level of education. The aspiring scientists who have found summer work there are "a right arm to a researcher," a company spokesman says. We're glad we've been able to use a number of young people this summer. It gives us an excellent opportunity to see how well they can work in this type of environment."

"Who takes all those pills?"

This is often the question when a customer sees the shelves in our pharmacy. Row on row on row of bottles, boxes, canisters, tubes, vials, jars . . . about 2,000 items in all. Good question. Who are they for? The answer, of course, is you. Say you go to a physician and he writes a prescription which you bring to us to be filled. We can't tell what the ailment will be—there are thousands, and we don't know what medication the doctor will prescribe. uncounted jobs through their calls upon local employers.

"These kids work hard. They know the value of money," says Harold Ostroff of Renwick's. "I think they are the backbone of America. I wish more companies would give them jobs."

On the other side of the ledger is Carol Bortell of 41 Robert Road. The job description for her summer work at Princeton University was never written.

The wording might have been "WANTED, Girl Friday, tour guide and gofer for Peace Corps training program involving 250 English teachers assigned to Turkey. Work entails preparing booklets, housing assistance, entertainment and recreation, arrangements for visiting Peace Corps officials from Washington, and so on. Hours uncertain."

"It was organized chaos," Carol reports. "A real fun job."

AWAIT JURY ACTION

In Stabbing. The case of Roderick D. Pannell, charged with murder in the death of Freddie L. Wilson, has gone before the Mercer County Grand Jury, and Township police said this week that they expect a true bill from the jury shortly, indicting Mr. Pannell.

Mr. Wilson was fatally stabbed on Friday, August 6, after a tavern quarrel erupted into violence. Mr. Pannell, arrested three hours after the killing, is being held without bail in Mercer County jail to await grand jury action.

GOHEEN AGREES

With Rutgers Action. "As long as we try to stifle opposing views — even when they are distasteful and ill-timed — we are headed down the dreary, defeatist road of censorship," said Dr. Robert F. Goheen, president of Princeton University this week, in response to inquiries about his reaction to the Genovese affair at Rutgers.

Prof. Walter F. Genovese had been quoted as saying that he hoped the Viet Cong would win in Viet Nam, and his statement almost brought about his dismissal as a Rutgers Faculty member.

"From the facts available," said Dr. Goheen, "the Board of Governors of Rutgers appears to me to have acted with propriety and wisdom in its recent decision not to permit an unfortunate and offensive statement to constitute grounds for dismissal of a tenure faculty member.

"Freedom of thought and speech and freedom of inquiry are essential to the American system and nowhere is their preservation and advancement more important than in the universities," the Princeton president said.

"YES" GIVES AWARDS

Scholarships Announced. Eight graduates of Princeton High School have received scholarships from the Youth Employment Service.

Students were chosen by the YES Scholarship Committee, advised by the guidance counselors of the high school and the Princeton High School Scholarship Committee. YES is particularly interested in helping students who want training in non-academic fields.

Winners are Hannah Coleman (practical nursing), Ella Hulfish, (registered nursing); Frances Cocetti (business machines) Marie Mangaenella (beauty culture), Douglas Watson (business and industrial), Barry Cooper (aeronautics), Dominic Mastrocanni (physical education) and Charlene Childs (secretarial training).

This is the second year YES has made scholarship awards. Last year's recipient,, Yvonne Wooton, will continue to receive YES aid. YES receives scholarship money from the Jaycees' annual Football Classic and from private contributions.

TWO CARS STOLEN

Both Are Still Missing. Two cars are reported stolen from a Borough parking yard and the other from Charlton Street, have not yet been located according to police.

Richard W. Copp, 77 Red Hill Road, left his car with the keys in the ignition in front of 4 Charlton Street between 5:20 and 5:45 p.m. on August 10. The car is a white Ford Falcon with license plate JDK 798. A 1954 Buick, license plate CFF 673, belonging to Mrs. Henry W. Kenarney, 43 Palmer Square, was taken from a parking yard on John and Hulfish Streets about August 13.

DILLEY REPORT READY

For September Release. The final report on consolidation, of Borough and Township, known informally as the "Dilley report" and formally as the report of the Joint Committee on Municipal Operations, will be released in September.

TOWN TOPICS will carry the news story on the report in its issue of September 9. Copies of the full report will be available to the public on that date at Borough and Township Halls, the library and book shops.

Begun two and one-half years ago, the consolidation study has been under the direction of Robert V. Dilley, a former management consultant and long a resident of Princeton. Mr. Dilley was appointed on April 1, 1963, by Henry S. Patterson, mayor of the Borough, and R. Kenneth Fairman, who was mayor of the Township at the time.

Mr. Dilley has served in a volunteer capacity and so have all 48 members of the parent committee and the eight subcommittees. The Joint Committee has had one paid employee, E. Victor Wolfenstein, a graduate student who has served, in Mr. Dilley's word, as "amanuensis."

The parent Joint Municipal Operations Committee has consisted of Mayor Patterson, Mr. Fairman (who was invited to continue after his term as Township mayor came to an end); Borough Councilmen William H. Walker II, and Ellwood W. Godfrey, Township Committeemen John O. Green Jr. and Walter Foster (Maurice P. Healy served until his Committee term expired); Charles W. Cornforth, John B. Redding Jr., Orren Jack Turner, James A. Arnold Jr., William M. Beaney, Stanley C. Smoyer and Mr. Dilley.

LADY BIRD AT MORVEN: Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson inspected Head Start programs for pre-school children in Newark and Lambertville on Thursday, ending her tour at a reception at "Morven," where project staffers gave brief talks and Professor James J. Murphy reported on the Princeton University-Trenton Schools Institute. After commenting on the program, she headed a receiving line with Gov. Hughes to shake hands with 200 guests.

PATIENT CONVICTED

Of Thefts at Hospital. A patient at Princeton Hospital, scheduled to undergo a stomach operation, was arrested Tuesday morning, August 10, by Borough Police as he attempted to leave the hospital with stolen property.

Charles Jacbos Jr., of Sag Harbor, Long Island, was convicted in a special session of Borough Court on charges of stealing both money and a wristwatch from other patients. He was sentenced to 60 days in the Mercer County Workhouse.

Jacobs checked into the hospital on July 29 under the pseudonym of "William Ryan." During the next 12 days, he not only managed to steal the money and watch, but also ran up a more than $1200 in hospital and doctor's bills by using someone else's hospitalization card.

However, John W. Kauffman, administrator of the hospital, became suspicious when the watch Jacobs left for safe keeping answered the description of the one that had been reported stolen. He called the police and after lengthy questioning by Det. Robert McAvenia, Jacobs admitted the thefts.

LIGHT INDUSTRY BACKED

In Montgomery Township. An ordinance permitting light industry in the area of Princeton Airport along State Road 206 was unanimously passed Monday night by the Montgomery Township Committee.

The move gives the green light to plans made public earlier this year by Princeton Air Research Park for a $2 million research and development project in the area. R. Norman Wood, an officer of the Research Park corporation, said that ground will be broken some time this fall.

In all, some 22 acres have been set aside for potential use by light industry. Mr. Wood said that plans call for about 40% office use of the building designed for the site, with the rest allocated to research, development and light assembly.

Approval was given earlier to construct a motel and restaurant capable of playing host to sizeable conventions in the Air Research Park area. This will raise the value of the completed development to some $4 million, Mr. Wood said.

ACCIDENT REPORT

Several Minor Injuries. Automobile accidents in the Borough and Township during the past week caused a number of minor injuries to some of those involved, while one man narrowly escaped injury.

Pennington Mayor John T. Huddleson emerged virtually unscathed after his foreign sports car smashed over a stone wall on Snowden Lane late Friday night. Mr. Huddleson, 35, who lives at 100 Park Avenue, Pennington, was charged with careless driving by Patrolman Thomas Procaccino of the Borough Police.

Police said Mr. Huddleson's car went through the Snowden intersection with Rollingmead, and crashed through a three-foot stone wall, landing in the front yard of James E. McHenry, 62 Snowden Lane. Both left wheels were knocked off by the impact. Mr. Huddleson was unable to explain how the mishap occurred, police said.

Susan Fowler, 142 West Broad Street, Hopewell, was taken to Princeton Hospital with minor injuries on August 11, when her car collided with another driven by Jerry Eliar, who lives at the Princeton Inn dormitory on Alexander Street. Police said Mr. Eliar attempted to turn left from Mercer on to Nassau Street, assuming that a trailer truck, momentarily stopped in the right lane, was blocking both east bound lanes.

in the left lane when the accident occurred. The entire front ends of both vehicles were damaged. Mr. Eilar was charged with failure to yield the right of way, driving with a revoked license and failure to notify the Motor Vehicle Bureau of a change of address.

On Sunday night, a two-car accident on the Princeton-Kingston Road caused injuries to two members of one family. Edwin B. Williams, 18, 71 Clay Street, swerved to avoid a car making a left turn from the highway, lost control of his vehicle, and skidded 184 feet before hitting a car driven by Edward J. Swiatkowski, 43, of Trenton. Mr. Swiatkowski's two children, Paula, 5, and Edward Jr., 13, both were injured slightly.

On Witherspoon Street in front of the Tiger Garage that same night, John A. Carroll, 60, 7 Franklin Terrace, struck a Public Service pole and received lacerations of the face and arms when his head went through the car's windshield. Mr. Carroll told police he was on his way home and that he must have blacked out.

A 21 year old motorcyclist from Dayton, Ohio, Wallace P. Judd was taken to Princeton Hospital with minor injuries by the First Aid Unit on Monday as a result of an accident at the intersection of Bayard and Cleveland Lanes. Mr. Judd ran into the left door of a car operated by Louis P. Marcinate 42 500 Sa. Main St. Pennington, as the latter was turning left from Bayard into Cleveland.

BOY IS KILLED BY CAR

On Route 69. Roy Sebestyen, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sebestyen, Route 69, Pennington, died almost instantly after being struck by a car on Route 69 near his home Saturday night at 8:45. The Pennington First Aid Squad rushed the boy to Mercer Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

An eye-witness reported that the boy fell from his bicycle into the northbound lane of the highway and had begun to get up when he was hit by an auto coming around the curve near Tony Mudri's Driving Range. The driver of the auto, Joseph A. Cesare, 31, of Clinton, returning home with his wife and four children said he did not see the figure with the Rev. A. Kenchild until he rounded the next. Manner affecting inter curve and came upon him in ment was in Pennington the road. Cemetery.

The witness said that the boy was lying on the ground and threw up his arms in front of his face when he saw the vehicle. Both the youngster and the car then skidded 150 feet before it came to a stop. Both were taken to Princeton Hospital by the First Aid Unit.

HERCULES IS MOVING

Out of Rocky Hill. Rocky Hill's only industry, Hercules Powder Company, has announced plans to close its research operations would be transferred to Hercules' Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory in Cumberland, Md., and the range and nearby homes lifted production work to the company's filament-winding plant in Clearfield, Utah.

The funeral for the boy was held Wednesday at the Black well Memorial Home, Penn-

Question of the Week

Question: How much of an allowance do you think someone your age should get, and do you think you should be allowed to spend it anyway you want to?

Where asked: Jugtown Playground.

Nancy Barclay, 10, 391 Franklin Avenue, St. Paul's School: Around 75c a week. I think we should be allowed to spend it anyway we want but we should first get permission from our parents.

Barbara Soda, 7, 6 Stanley Avenue, Nassau Street: Let's see, I'm just seven and I get 25c a week. Last Sunday I got a quarter and a nickel. When I get to be eight, I'd like to get $2 a week. Then I'd have lots of money. I have $7 in the bank. With $8 I could get a real set of drums. I'm not allowed to spend my allowance anyway I want to. I have to ask my mother and she says 'yes' or 'no.' If I could spend it the way I want to I'd get bad teeth on candy.

Tracy Cupples, 15, Erdman Avenue, 8, Nassau Street: $1 a week—that's how much I do get. I guess I should be allowed to spend it anyway I want to—sometimes—but not all the time.

Barbara Aust, 11, 28 Clearview Avenue, St. Paul's. For all the work I have todo, about $1. Yes, I'd like to be able to spend it anyway I wanted to. Who wouldn't? I just like to spend money. When I get it, I can't keep it: it gets on my nerves, I have to spend it. I just love money.

Michael Stryker, 6, 6 Fisher Avenue, St. Paul's: 15c a week. Yes, because it's my money.

Joseph Borg, 6, 249 Ewing Street, Community Park: $1. I even get $1. I save it. I save it all so I can put it in the bank and have a lot of money when I grow up.

Bob Bartolino, 15, 8 Tee-Ar Place, PHS: About $1. If your parents teil you to put it in the bank then you won't have it on a lot of things like candy and stuff we'll get cavities. My parents tell me how to spend and I don't mind.

Mike Cevera, 11, 69 Leavitt Lane, Community Park: About $1.50 a week. No, not all of it. About 75c anyway you want. You have to save for things you want that cost a lot of money. Sometimes parents should tell you how to spend it. Other times, I think we should listen to their advice but still be free to spend, say, half of our money any way we want.

Dominick Sferra, 11, 52 Erdman Avenue, St. Paul's: About $1.25. You should be able to spend it anyway you want but with your parent's permission. My parents say I can buy what I like but I have to have their permission. They usually let me buy most anything.

Kevin McManimon, 7, 30 Erdman Avenue, St. Paul's: 50c a week . . . yes, because it is my money.

Barbara Barclay, 8, 391 Franklin Avenue, St. Paul's: $2 a week. No, I don't think you should spend it anyway you want. I think your parents don't want you to go out and buy a lot of candy and have cavities.

Debbie Snyder, 10, 344 Franklin Avenue, Littlebrook: $1 a week. No, if we spend anything left for the movies. You could put half in and keep the rest. If you put it all in you'd only have to ask your parents for more money. I say you should be able to spend half of it anyway you want.

David Toto, 11, 73 Erdman Ave, Witherspoon School: Nothing. If you want some money you should go out and earn it. If you just do things around the house, it's your parents' money and you're going to get it anyway. Yes, I think you should spend it any way you want. It's yours.

Pat McManimon, 14, 30 Erdman Avenue, PHS: Someone my age should get about $1 and if he doesn't work he shouldn't get anything. It's really not right for parents to give a weekly allowance if you don't work for it. Being parents are our guardians, I think they should have some say on how we spend it. I think you should be able to spend about a half or three-quarters of your allowance any way you want.

Lynn Skillman, 11, 52 Harriet Drive, Witherspoon School: It depends on whether you work around the house or not. If you work you should get about $1 a week, if you don't do anything, you should get about 50c. I don't think parents should tell you how to spend your money; I think you should be able to spend it any way you want.

Angelina Sferra, 11, 52 Erdman Avenue, St. Paul's: About $1.50 a week. You should be able to spend your money the way you want sometimes but not always. I think you should put so much in the bank. Sometimes my parents tell me how to spend my money and I don't mind; it's good for me.

Cathy Stryker, 11½, 6 Fisher Avenue, St. Paul's: About 50c a week or $1. Yes, I think so. It's your money, you should spend it any way you want.

GOODBYE, BILL: William Lockwood, McCarter's associate producer, will leave his busy McCarter desk this fall for a new and bigger desk at Lincoln Center. (Staff Photo)

News Of The THEATRES

LOCKWOOD RESIGNS

To Join Lincoln Center. William W. Lockwood Jr. has left McCarter Theatre to join the staff of Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts as assistant director for programming, a new post.

A member of the McCarter family since the fall of 1963, Mr. Lockwood has had the title of associate producer and booking director for the Princeton theatre. He inaugurated such McCarter features as the "Midnight Specials," the International Film Series, the Christmas production of the "Nutcracker" ballet and the "Music-at-McCarther" concert series. In addition, he started the practice of bringing off-Broadway productions to Princeton on Monday nights, when most off-Broadway shows have the night off.

All McCarter's special events—the San Francisco Ballet, Marcel Marceau (due again this fall), "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?", "In White America," the Jose Greco dance company, Bob Dylan and Artur Rubinstein — have been brought to Princeton by Mr. Lockwood in his capacity of programmer.

At Lincoln Center, Mr. Lockwood will continue to be engaged in programming, and will line up events for the various halls that combine to make the Lincoln Center complex. These include Philharmonic Hall, the New York State Theater and the new Metropolitan Opera House. During the coming season, Mr. Lockwood will serve as advisor to McCarter on bookings and special programs.

A native of Princeton, Mr. Lockwood was graduated from Princeton High School and in 1960, from Princeton University. During his undergraduate days, he was one of the first student impresarios, bringing 17 artists and productions to McCarter in the 1958-60 seasons.

After graduation, he took his bookings to Committon, Dance Attractions, Inc., to San Francisco for three successful seasons. He returned there until 1963, when he returned to Princeton.

PRINCE AND PLAYHOUSE

Lord Jim (now through Tuesday) has done a pretty fair job of transporting Conrad's widely - read novel to the screen as far as the action goes. It is in attempting to analyze the complex mind of the hero and his motives, it becomes hopelessly entangled.

Lord Jim (played conscientiously by Peter O'Toole) commits an act of cowardice by deserting a ship he believes to be sinking. When the ship and its passengers float into the harbour, he decides to atone for this disgrace brought upon him. To this end, he retires to a small village and leads its natives against an oppressive mine owner, who uses them as slaves. Supporting roles are handled by James Mason, Curt Jurgens,

IT'S NEW To Us

BROWN JUG

Full and Overflowing. "She loved gin and I loved rum . . . " you'll recall the preferences established in the old song about the little brown jug. Well, the new Brown Jug on Nassau Street in the new addition to the Cook real estate building (next to Nevius-Voorhees, more or less), caters to these and other tastes in a tasteful new shop so artfully decorated to look like bygone times that one customer looked around and asked, "Is this a landmark building of some kind?"

Give it a little time and maybe it will be. Right now, the Brown Jug is happy enough to be new and ready to pour.

Italian wines are a specialty of the house, and you're due for pleasant browsing if you think "Italian" means only red Chianti. Here's the Raffino white Chianti and Orulieto — nice and dry. A rose from Bolla Chiaretto and, most pleasing of all this time of year, a chilled Vino dell' Elba dry white wine in a fish-shaped bottle, cool when you buy it because of Brown Jug's nice refrigerating system.

Red Chianti? Try the Antinori or that quart bottle of good red wine with the hollow place for ice and the pitcher spout for pouring. It's wrapped in bright cherry raffia.

Our summer favorite at Brown Jug's gallon can of draft beer from Knickerbocker. Costs $2. Buy the $4.50 carbon dioxide cartridge, punch it into the can, and put the whole thing into the refrigerator. Then, when you want just a bit of beer instead of a full can, open the refrigerator door, manipulate the spout and pour, pour, pour.

Paul Masson's six wines in a Connoisseur Selection may appeal to others in your family. You get a sliding wine chart to slide along with. Three whites, two reds and a rose.

Brown Jug, as we said before, is a shop reminiscent of another day, with slate floors, antiqued tin chandeliers with graceful light brackets curved into shallow "S" figures, a mellow brick wall along one side, unfinished cedar paneling and, just to remind you that this is 1965, a walk-in, five-door beerbox. Black Horse Ale, Dortmunder, Tuborg, Lowenbrau, Becks, Carlsburgh and the domestic stand-bys.

Call 924-7700 for obliging delivery service and don't forget the number if you need ice-cubes or glassware.

GO?GO!

That One-Inch Look. Wear, says the Stacy label, this brief skirt an inch below the waistline for that "Go-Go!" look. The skirt is an electric black and white check plaid piped narrowly with white flannel and marked for notice with two white flannel buttons. It has a friend in grey tweed with narrow black leather piping.

Right next on the Stacy rack (we're in the Lawrence Shopping Center store, by the way) is an op-art chevron knit with turtleneck and long sleeves. Matching it is a pair of tights. Over the tights you wear a brief skirt in the predominating color. Olive and white chevrons in shirt and tights, olvie skirt. Also claret or navy.

Everything at Stacy for the girl bound for school, mixes and matches to bewildering infinity. There are, for example, more slacks in more colors and fabrics than you knew there were in the world, and you know where you can get from there in mix-matching. Try the poncho caught at the sides and festooned with avocado bail fringe against a blue-olive plaid. Or the dacron-orlon tweed popover in black and white with thick black fringe around the V-neck and wrist sleeves.

Those wide-wall tobacco corduroy slacks match a sleeveless popover tied at the neck with leather thongs and a double-breasted wide-wale corduroy jacket with wooden buttons and stand-away collar.

Then, we found a skirt in the same corduroy, laced up the sides just like the pop top. To give you an idea of price, the slacks are $12.

Two Princeton photographers are on display in the camera department of the University Store, just to tantalize when you bring in your vacation snapshots for developing.

Color photographs of the Princeton campus, processed by the photographer himself, come from the camera of R. G. Mille. Handsome evocations of Princeton in spring, summer and winter, they show an unusual view of the Yasmaki Woodrow Wilson building, softened by the branch of a tree; a brooding Nassau Hall tiger; Nassau Hall itself, snug in a blanket of snow; the gentle color of wisteria against stone and the magnolias on University Place.

The other photographer is young James Woodward, Princeton alumnus, brand new college graduate and approved photographer with considerable promise. Working in black and white with an eye for line and plane, he presents two interior views of the Guggenheim Museum, a curving park bench at dusk and a still life of a glass bottle and a window.

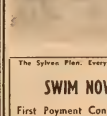
How Much Is Peace of Mind Worth? You Get It Free With A Sylvan Pool!

You can buy a cheaper pool than a Sylvan Pool — but you can't buy better. If a Sylvan Pool costs a little more, there must be a reason. There is. Built into each Sylvan Pool is peace of mind — a lifetime of peace of mind for you as a pool owner.

That's important, because a swimming pool is a purchase that a home-owner usually makes just once. And because the average homeowner has no working knowledge of swimming pool construction, he can be easily misled by false claims.

His best bet is to rely on the reputation of the pool builder, and it is a reputation for quality that has made Sylvan the largest pool builder east of the Rockies. In fact, a recent survey showed that approximately 80% of Sylvan's sales were due to customer recommendations.



Sylvan . . . The Pool For All Seasons

You should buy a pool for a lifetime, not for a summer. Sylvan Pools are built to withstand the severe winters in the Northeast; in fact, you can ice skate on any Sylvan Pool.

Eli Wallach, Jack Hawkins, and a new Israeli actress, Daliah Lavi, who passes for a native girl.

"Jim" runs for a little more than two and a half hours, and there's plenty of excitement in the picture. Unfortunately, the character of Conrad's hero does not emerge as clearly as it might of and the film suffers a bit because of it.

THE GARDEN

Casanova '70 (now through Tuesday) stars Marcello Mastroianni in his umpteenth role as an Italian lover afflicted with some sort of personal problem. This entry is quite entertaining for the most part.

An Italian army major assigned to NATO, Mastroianni suffers from sexual impotence, except when he is in a romantic situation that is fraught with danger for his personal safety. This leads to affairs with a lady lion tamer, in the lion's cage, with the wife of his commanding officer, when Mastroianni knows her husband will catch them, and with the spouse of an insanely jealous count, who plans to kill Mastroianni.

The Italians specialize in turning out these light-weight farces about love and marriage, and this one is as good as most Mastroianni is a pleasure to watch in any film.

COCA IN DRIVER'S SEAT

Cadillac Is Solid Gold. Imogene Coca will continue with "The Solid Gold Cadillac" at the Bucks County Playhouse, New Hope, through this Saturday night. Miss Coca has been serving in place of Pearl Bailey, who collapsed with fatigue in Los Angeles before she even had a chance to join the New Hope company in rehearsal.

Following "Cadillac," the New Hope playhouse will present "Quality Street," a new musical based on James Barrie's famous play. It will open Monday, continuing through September 4. "Quality Street" is a "family" play, New Hope points out to potential ticket-buyers.

To wind up the season, Claude Rains will appear in Henry Denker's adaptation of Ugo Betti's brilliant play, "The Burnt Flower Bed." This is an out-of-town tryout for the Claude Rains vehicle—its scheduled to open in New York in October under the Theatre Guild banner.

brown flecked occasionally with orange ($15) is just like a jacket except that the jacket has sleeves and costs $18. Both have low belts, orange lined, and both could be worn with any of the brown-hued slacks or even with a skirt.

Yes, what about skirts? They're here, too; not everybody wears pants all the time. Lots of reds this year, starting with a cerise-fuschia knit skirt and proceeding to a melon-coral flannel and a deep tomato and charcoal with that flattering flat no-band waist.

Pink and orange "fishnet" covers an olive and gold mix and the overall result isn't nearly so preposterous as you might think, but they'll see you, kid, they'll see you.

Sacks, of course, are Argyles the Duke never saw, and wild plaid patterns. We liked a black sock with little white diamonds. Or was it a white sock with black diamonds? Soft white Courreges boots complete a top-toe look. See you in class!

WHERE'S MY CAR?

In the Guest Room. Converting a garage into an extra room may present a problem or two, like where to keep the car, but often the extra room is something you need more than a car needs an umbrella. We are, as you may have guessed, at the Building Center in Princeton Junction where "convertible" means garage or attic and not Impala.

Paneling is one of the easiest ways to start conversion, and The Building Center will sell you 4x7 sheets ($2.95 all the way to $25 for that pecan inlay) and tell you how to proceed, or they will install everything for you, including matching trim for windows and doors. How about natural mahogany?

Above, you'll examine the Armstrong or Celotex ceiling tile. If you're so minded, you may use the new suspended ceiling that allows translucent panels for the light to pass through. Or, staple your ceiling to Building Center's furring lath.

To insulate your new room, there is fiberglas in side-wall or ceiling thickness, including the special kind of insulation recommended by Public Service, for electrical heating systems.

Moving outdoors, before frost, we find The Building Center still excited about aluminum siding. And why not? Overlay your house with aluminum siding and you won't have to paint for 20 to 25 years. Colors like barn red, grey, blue or white remind you that aluminum siding is matte finish not "aluminum." By the way, all siding is grounded

Father Day on the Way

Turning to the classics, the Washington Crossing Park Open Air Theatre will present "Life With Father," the well-loved Clarence Day comedy this Friday and Saturday at 8:30.

Adapted by Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse from Day's book, "Life with Father" is a wholesome family comedy, and parents need not worry about taking the children.

In this production, "Life With Father" will be given by the Langhorne Players of Bridgetown Pike, Langhorne, Pennsylvania under the direction of A. Edwin Macon. The production is the 100th play in the playgroup's 18-year history.

Tickets, at $1.50, will be available at the Open Air Theatre each night, or they may be reserved by calling 737-0623 or 883-4120. Mail orders will be accepted through Box 1776, Titusville, N. J.

some of whom will be offered jobs at the new locations. The remaining employees will be reduced in force over the next six months until the plant is finally closed.

J. D Hayes, general manager of Hercules' Explosive and Chemical Propulsion Department, said that the company will do everything in its power to assist the workers in finding other employment. A special personnel office will be established to aid in finding openings. Mr. Hayes also pointed out that those affected by the layoff will receive severance pay and accerted vacation pay, in accordance with Hercules' policy.

Mr. Hayes commented that Hercules is attempting to consolidate the major portion of its rocket research at the Allegheny Laboratory, and thus enlarge its capability and place itself in a more competitive position.

When a town's only industry moves out taking 340 jobs, it would seem normal for both the town and its citizens to have to make some sizeable adjustments. In this case, however Hercules may be doing more adjusting than Rocky Hill. Only ten to 20 Rocky Hill residents are on the Hercules payroll, and the company does little business with the town's merchants.

Most of its employees come from a large area surrounding Rocky Hill, including Morrisville, Levittown and Bristol, Pa.; and others in Trenton, Princeton, Kendall Park and parts of Somerset County. The Rocky Hill Inn is the only concern doing much business with Hercules, and co-owner and operator Walter Teschke does not expect much of a loss. He hopes to replace them with employees of the new Ingersoll Rand plant being built in neighboring Montgomery Township.

The one problem which could develop major proportions, is the loss of almost $26,500 from Rocky Hill's tax coffers. Hercules accounted for almost one-sixth of the borough's annual school and local purpose budget of $150,000.

Mayor Robert L. Eisenmann said that there is no doubt that the 1966 budget will be affected, because the expenses will not be any less. The town will feel the loss of income and taxes will be raised. Mayor Eisenmann pointed out, however, that Hercules will continue to pay real estate taxes on its plant until it is sold, and the cut in business property revenue will be gradual, taking place as machinery is removed.

Moreover, he thinks Hercules will not have much of a problem selling its facility, and this in turn could become the nucleus of a large scale light industrial development. The site of the company building is zoned light industrial, and the surrounding area is zoned "agricultural, engineering, research, office."

against electrical storms by Building Center workmen.

Winchek screen-and-storms come in white or satin finish aluminum to seal your door and windows against the storm. All are weatherstripped with pile just to make sure. Winchex has a new door this year, one with the ereon back "X" like the Dutch doors of country homes.

White or aluminum gutters may be part of your home maintenance plan this year (wooden ones may be rotten by now, you know) and you'd better add down-spouts to your list, too. Here again, The Building Center will either supply the material for you, or install the gutters yourself. Worth considering if your house is eight to ten years old.

LICENSE REVOKED

For Careless Driving. Separate charges of careless driving against George W. Good 3d, 18, 50 Little Brook Road, cost him a 30-day revocation of his license.

The defendant pleaded guilty to complaints brought against him by Patrolmen Thomas Procaccino and Russell Shangle. He paid a $15 fine on each count and lost his license for 30 days on each, but Magistrate Theodore T. Tuna Jr. ruled that the latter sentences should run concurrently.

In other Borough cases, John C. Bennett, 56, 60 Meadowbrook Drive, was fined $20 for speeding; Stephen N. Bender, 31, 308 Dodds Lane, paid $12 for a stop sign violation, and Colin Leitch, 18, 106 Broadmead, paid $10 for excessive horn blowing. The latter two defendants pleaded not guilty.

GO-GO!

Teen Dance Friday. The Vermen, Princeton's resident teenage symphonic group, will provide go-go music Friday from 8:30 at the sixth Outdoor Dance of the summer, to be held on the high school grounds.

Admission is free, and is open to teen-agers living in Princeton or attending school in Princeton. The Joint Recreation Board is the sponsor of the dance.

The Vermen are Joe Trani electric accordion; Terry Davison, drums; Glea Doyle, rhythm guitar; Jerry Opperman, lead guitar and Larry McHugh, bass guitar. They have played for private parties in Princeton, Trenton, Allentown, Hope-

Why sleep like this on other mattresses?

When you can sleep like this on a Beautyrest.

Other mattresses have springs that are tied together with wire. Press down on one spring and the others sag along with it. The sleepers body sags too. And, that is bad for restful sleep. Beautyrest is made differently. It is the only one with separate, independent springs that adjust to you . . . that give your body complete support from head to toe without sag and without hollows. Thus Beautyrest provides superior comfort — gives better sleep. Yet it costs little more per night than the cheapest mattress. Why settle for anything less?

Beautyrest, standard sizes — twin or double $79.50

THREE GO SOUTH

Civil Rights, Teaching. "It's been kind of an anxious summer," commented George Goldsmith with a mixture of pride and apprehension as he talked about his daughter Lynn.

Lynn has seen the inside of a South Carolina jail as part of her voter registration work and this makes her a bonded sister to Jay Lockard who has seen, this summer, the inside of a Mississippi jail. In fact, it's three times in jail for Jay.

Jay, Lynn and Gail Blattenberger are three members of the class of '64, Princeton High School, who have devoted the summer of 1965—and "devoted" is indeed the word—to working in the south.

A freshman at Radcliffe last year, Jay has decided to take a leave from college and remain in Mississippi, working this fall and winter on the SNCC projects that have occupied her so whole-heartedly this summer.

She started out in June, travelin, to Jackson, Mississippi by bus. She arrived the day before the big demonstrations began, and less than 24 hours after she arrived, she was in jail, charged with parading without a permit.

Off to Jail. As soon as her parents learned that she was in jail, they sent bail, but the 900 demonstrators who had been arrested decided to wait until all of them could be released together, and so Jay spent 13 days in the Jackson jail.

"We learned later that she went on a nine-day hunger strike," said her father, Duane Lockard. "Authorities had sent the white demonstrators to jail, but had taken all the Negroes to the fairgrounds, and the strike was to protest this segregation."

Her jailors had forbidden the prisoners to write, but Jay wrote two letters to her parents on toilet paper and smuggled them out through the Freedom Democratic Party lawyer who visited the prisoners.

Next stop was West Point, 50 miles north of Philadelphia in Clay County. Here, Jay has been canvassing from door-to-door in a voter registration drive, running Freedom Schools for adults and children, and trying to organize the independent Negro farmers so they can be a force in the community after SNCC leaves.

In Jail Again. Clay County has had a separate Negro-white school calendar so that Negro school children can be used in the cotton-fields, and when a boycott was organized to protest this schedule, county officials rounded up all the civil rights leaders in sight, including Jay, and kept them in jail for two days.

"Jay couldn't attend her grandfather's funeral," Mr. Lockard says. "She was in jail."

She went to jail a third time because she was in the group with Congressman Reuss' son when he brushed against Mississippi officials two weeks ago. That time, Jay was given a $25 fine, suspended so long as she remains on "good behavior" for a year.

She is living in West Point's Freedom Center—a store divided into rooms.

"She says the white community isn't particularly hostile," remarked her father. "They just don't pay any attention. Once in a while, there is some phone heckling, but

Better Schools at Lower Cost.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I have the utmost confidence in the citizens of Princeton when it comes to their judgment of a situation if they are given the facts. The facts concerning the proposed school district merger are that we will have better schools at lower cost in the future here in Princeton if the borough and township join forces than if they go their separate ways.

These facts have emerged after years of study by those most concerned — the two school boards, the two school administrations, all of the PTAs and citizen groups. Don't take my word for it, though. Get hold of "Blue Book, or, if that seems too weighty, one of the excellent summaries published by the Friends of Public Education.)

It seems to me that better schools at lower costs are pretty important to this community. What do you think? If we can agree on this, then the problems that arise can be solved in a sensible fashion, and in mutual cooperation.

I humbly suggest that we put first things first, and create one strong school district in Princeton that can devote its full energies to the education of all of our children.

MABEL K. RUGG
92 Overbrook Drive

(Town Topics fully agrees with Mrs Rugg and affirms once again its support of school merger; see Town Topics, June 24, 1965.) Blue Book copies are available at Borough Hall, Township Hall, the Public Library and Mole's Book Shop.)

Word from the Dark Ages.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I have read the letters of August 12 written by Mr. Bannard, stating that he has read more on this controverstial subject since he wrote his last letter. I am pleased to hear this and I congratulate Mr. Bannard.

This has been my underlying wish all along, that the people should obtain both sides of a controversy instead of just one side. Now I can better understand Mr. Bannard's concern and I respect it that much more.

In contrast are the series of letters written by other anti-fluoridationists who either admit that they are opposed to change even for the better, using the word FLUORINE instead of FLUORIDE, merely to stir up the fears in the people, or compare the actions of the Water Company to that of Hitler towards the Jewish people. When I see statements of this type, it is like having a red cape in front of a bull.

I have no patience with such statements. They are clearly out of the Dark Ages and have no place in a community such as Princeton.

To conclude, I would much rather have a person such as Mr. Bannard debate the issue in an intelligent and straightforward fashion then those who are opposed to change for the better.

ANTHONY E. MEYER
22 Carnegie Drive

Tongue on Wry.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am continuously surprised at the quality of thought shown by some of those who write to Town Topics about fluoridation.

Fluoridation letter No. 1 last week was a "tongue in cheek" job by Mrs. F. H Nicoll. Satire is a potent tool, and it could be used against anti-fluoridationists, but this sort of inept try strips off it's own cover of irony and bares bad logic.

She says: "1. It is unnecessary," and then says sure, it is unnecessary, but so is Shakespeare. I don't agree. I think Shakespeare is necessary and I think he is not a systemic poison. What a comparison.

"2. It is dangerous," and then (I know it is tongue in cheek) says that we should eliminate chlorine, that even typhoid is a better risk. But chlorine is used to kill harmful organic matter in the water; sodium fluoride is used to make chalkier in our bodies. They are just not comparable in this way. And how on earth can anyone compare cavities with typhoid?

"3. The decision is up to the public," and she illustrates her point by a comparison with her doctor recommending her appendix be removed, and by an ironic speculation of a public referendum concerning her doctor's decision. Doesn't she know the difference between public and private? Our whole concept of government is based on it!

4. "It is enforced medication." Here she compares fluoridation to compulsory immunization; cavities to small pox and diptheria. It is really amazing.

It may look silly to be so annoyed by a "tongue in cheek" letter such as Mrs Nicoll's, but it was such a wonderful example of the persistant thinking that infects this controversy that I couldn't help replying.

I wish an advocate of fluoridation would write a letter to the paper and leave out all the experts and doctors and dentists and side issues and explain carefully and logically why we have to have fluoridation. This is not an issue of politics or taste; it is an issue that should be argued and decided it's own merits and on the logical efficiency of the arguments of each side.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On reading newspaper accounts of my comments at the last meeting of the Recreation Commission I realized that they sounded quite negative. This was not my intention.

The new plans offer a number of distinct advantages over the former ones and, on the whole, certainly provide an excellent basis on which to proceed.

There are certain improvements which I believe are desirable.

For example, less crowding, more and better paths, and more paved area around the pool are desirable even if these modifications mean that some facilities must be moved across the road. But these and other modifications can certainly be made in the future as the various components are authorized, designed and built.

But over and above these considerations, to my mind the most important facts which emerged at this meeting were that the Recreation Commission is eager to see the plans become a reality, and that in West Point isn't so violent as other places."

Miss Goldsmith, Too. Lynn Goldsmith has also commentated on the lack of violence "Harassment," says Mr. Goldsmith, "that's what it is, chiefly."

A sophomore at Brandeis majoring in anthropology, Lynn is in St. Matthews, South Carolina, in Calhoun County working on voter registration. She is affiliated with a Southern Christian Leadership Conference Project called "SCOPE," concerned with the political education of the new Negro voter.

Lynn went to jail as a result of a trip she made to Orangeburg County to help out with registration there. On the afternoon of August 3, registration clerks began a slow-down and the students, failing to reach the United States attorney, decided to "sit in" as a protest. They were in jail for 24 hours before "SCLC" bailed them out.

"Calhoun County has a population of 6,000 and St. Matthews itself only 1,000" Mr. Goldsmith says. "We understand from Lynn that the whole area is just one big cottonfield. Most of the Negroes, of course, are tenants and are highly intimidated."

Harassment? Well, a sheriff stopped a "SCOPE" car and found an invisible something wrong with it. Again a Negro working with "SCOPE" walked across a field to talk with the man working the field and was arrested for trespass—that kind of thing.

Bombed. Gail Blattenberger, a sophomore at Smith, spent the summer in St. Augustine, Florida, on a tutoring project financed by the chaplains of Dartmouth and Yale. Her "tutees" were Negro high school students and her subject was math.

Gail, of course, is the girl who was bombed. Almost. She was billeted in the home of a woman who is an executive secretary for the Rev. Martin Luther King's unit in St. Augustine. The night Gail arrived, someone put a beach ball full of gasoline under the kerosene heating unit attached to the house. The bomb was found in time and no one was injured.

Besides tutoring math, Gail taught swimming. The St. Augustine beach has been the scene of unpleasant racial strife, and Gail reports that there were "disturbances" when she took her young charges there for a swim. "Mostly it was people trying to scare us off," she says.

With the summer tutoring session over, Gail and 10 of her pupils came north by bus and they are now in Princeton and Somerville, where they will remain until Monday.

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK—II

(This is the second of a series of four articles on Princeton's football prospects for 1965.)

Sophomores Unimpressive. At a time when the Princeton football team has been harder hit by graduation than in any year in the last dozen, the sophomore class is one which comes to the varsity with as poor a first-year performance as any freshman eleven in the post-war era.

In defeating perennially weak Columbia and losing by margins ranging from three points to five touchdowns to Rutgers, Penn, Cornell, Harvard and Yale, the Class of 1968 rarely played a quarter of concisive football. Even overlooking the problems of converting 90% of the players from T to single wing, the 45-man squad appeared markedly short of ability and finished its season by yielding a combined total of 85 points to Cornell, Harvard and Yale, absorbing a 32-0 shellacking from the Blue Bullpups.

Nonetheless, Dick Colman feels "the sophomores were better individually than their record shows" and is hopeful of some rather quick help to plug the many gaps created by departure of Cosmo Iacavazzi and Co. Fortunately, the prospects are brighter at two of the positions where replacements are needed most (end and fullback), but there is absolutely nothing in the way of quarterback strength, and the weakness there this year may be the can tied to the Tiger's tail.

The depth chart listing the top 44 players for last year's Cornell game, which saw Princeton wrap up its 9-and-0 record with a narrow 17-12 triumph, showed 11 sophomores. One defensive end Walt Kozumbo) had earned a starting position, ten others were primary replacements on either the reserve offensive or defensive platoons.

Because the 1965 Tigers are fairly well entrenched at some positions (notably both guard slots, tailback and the defensive secondary) it is unlikely the Class of 1968 will dent the chart there. Further working against it is the inconsistent quality of the top-ranked personnel: of the 13 labelled "sophomores to watch" by the coaching staff, ten are lineman and only three are backs.

This is the 13th season since spring practice was banned in the Ivy League, and the regulations against it are now so strict that the players may not even don uniforms on the one day in May when they have a brief meeting. Accordingly, no assignments to either the offensive or defensive platoons have been made prior to the squad's arrival at Blairstown on September 1.

By positions, these are the homes which may bolster the 1965 varsity as the season progresses:

- Ends: Charles Baby (6-0, 190); Marty Bauer (6-2, 180) and Steve Pierce (6-4, 190). Baby should give returning veterans at left end a run for their jobs on the defensive platoon, particularly since none of the holdovers saw enough action last fall to earn letters. Pierce will fit into the picture on offense, his 6-4 measurements tabbing him as a pass receiver. Bauer might make the second platoon on offense at the other end, behind senior Lawson Cashdollar.
- Tackles: As indicated pictorially, the pick here is 225-lb. Lee Hitchner who should see considerable action on offense. Working for him, too, is the lack of much holdover material at inside tackle. Another good prospect is 215-lb Homer Ashby, a standout among the freshmen as was Hitchner. Bill Gloyd, 6-2, 200, also has the coaches' nod as a sophomore to watch at tackle.
- Guards: If any sophomore can crack the top 44

BIG MAN IN THE PICTURE: Voted the best player on last year's freshman football team, Lee Hitchner is expected to develop rapidly as a Princeton 6-2, weighs 225 and is a candidate for the spot vacated by all-Ivy Ernie Pascarello.

players with five lettermen listed ahead of him, at the two positions it will be Bob Hausleiter. No more than six feet tall, he weighs a rugged 225 and may develop well enough to rank as a stand-in for Captain Paul Savidge. Craig Stone, 6-0, 205, gained valuable experience last year as a guard serving as a linebacker, while Ron Marvin, five pounds lighter, was well-regarded on offense but missed considerable action because of a broken shoulder.

● Center: Dave Bliss, light for the job at 185, but the player who saw most of the action there last year for the freshmen. Of the 13 players listed here, he is one of nine who captained his high school team.

● Backs: A fast wingback in Tom Blejwas, sturdily built at 6-1, 192; the freshman captain in fullback Roger Hughes, 6-2, 200; and a one-time T-quarterback now converted to tailback in promising Bob Weber, 5-2, 185. Blejwas and Weber are apparent offensive candidates, Hughes can go both ways but may be needed at fullback, where there is a question as to how much the Tigers will toll in ability following Iacavazzi's graduation.

Summary. With two platoon-football making 22 starting positions available, there is a chance that at least one of them will be a sophomore. Last fall, It was Kozumbo; this season it might be Hitchner. Barring injuries to holdover personnel, the only others who said might rank among the top 44 by opening day are the three ends (Baby, Pierce or Bauer, largely because of the general shortage of experienced players there); Hausleiter at guard and Hughes at fullback

Next Week: Possible Lineups)

SCHOLAR-ATHLETES: New York Giants rookies Bob Timberlake (left) and Frank Lambert will combine their professional football careers with the classroom. Timberlake, a quarterback from the University of Michigan, will enroll at Princeton Theological Seminary. Lambert, a punting specialist who played for the University of Mississippi, will work toward a master's degree in business administration at Rutgers. Both will be here when the Giants play the Eagles on August 28.

Iacavazzi to Play Saturday. Professional football will open the fall sports season in Central New Jersey the next two weekends.

On Saturday (game time 2 p.m.), the New York Jets and the champion Buffalo Bills of the American League will play in the Rutgers University Stadium. Next week in Palmer Stadium (game time, 2 p.m., Saturday, August 28), the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles will meet here for the fourth time in a National Football League exhibition game.

Cosmo Iacavazzi, the best fullback ever to play football for Princeton, will see action for the Jets in New Brunswick. Off his early form, he appears likely to win a place in the New Yorkers' reserve backfield, despite the fact that his relatively small stature (5-11, 195) kept him from being drafted by either of the major leagues last fall.

The 1964 Tiger captain gained better than six yards per carry in his first pro start, a contest against the Boston Patriots' rookies last month at Lowell, Mass. Two weeks ago, he looked well against the Houston Oilers until his fumble in the closing minutes set up the winning touchdown. Last Friday, in the rain and mud at Allentown, Pa., he averaged better than four yards per carry as the Jets humbled Boston, 26 to 16.

Eagles Seek Revenge. After losing three times in a row here to the Giants, it seems likely that Philadelphia will chalk up its first victory in Palmer Stadium. On their way down hill last year, the New Yorkers managed to top their opponents, 28 to 17, here but subsequently lost twice to the Eagles in regular season play and wound up as sole tenants of the NFL cellar.

The Philadelphians opened their exhibition season by absorbing a surprising 37-0 drubbing at the hands of the Washington Redskins but bounced back Sunday to record a 20-to-17 victory over the well-regarded Detroit Lions. Quarterback King Hill played the entire game on offense, using Ralph Smith and the long-armed Ray Pogue as his principal receivers. Sam Baker booted a pair of field goals in the triumph.

From an Ivy League point of view, it is sad to report that Cornell's Gary Wood seems less and less likely to measure up as a quarterback for the Giants. In the New Yorkers' 44-7 loss to the Green Bay Packers Saturday, their total aerial offense measured 22 yards, and as Allie Sherman said, "If you are going to win in the National Football League, you have to be able to pass.

The Giants have rebuilt their 1965 offense around Wood's roll-out patterns. The result, however, is that he often has to throw out of a moving pocket, which the defense frequently decimates. His occasionally off-balance passes have been low and worse yet, the Packers picked off two of them for the touchdowns.

Sherman's running game, built around the veteran Joe Morrison, second- year men Ernie Wheelwright and Steve Thurlow and rookies Ernie Koy and Tucker Frederickson, appears to have considerable potential. It can, however, be fairly well contained if the passing does not develop.

The Giants next encounter with reality will occur Sunday at New Haven when they play the Pittsburgh Steelers in the Yale Bowl. Philadelphia's last game prior to appearing in Palmer Stadium will be this weekend against the Minnesota Vikings at Minneapolis.

The Jaycees, sponsors of the annual pro game here, began the week with 18,000 tickets still on hand. Priced at $5.50 and $3.50, they may be purchased at the University Store and Princeton Stationers, or ordered by mail (with a 50-cent handling charge) through P.O. Box 324, Princeton. Checks should be made out to the Jaycee Football Classic.

RACE GOES TO THE WIRE

With RCA and Aeceleraton, RCA 1 and Accelerator came up with victories last week in the three - way tie for fourth place with Harrison Athletic Club and the Post Office. A flip of the coin gave the Post Office a bye, and Nini won this game easily 8 to 1, with Frank Cox going three for three including a homer, and Frank Boccanfuso and Thompson picking up two hits each. The H.A.C. was hindered by some weak hitting, with Tom Reynolds the only player to make two hits. Bob Smyth doubled to lead off one inning, but was left stranded at second.

Playing its third game of the week last Thursday, Nini felt no strain and walloped the Post Office 12 to 3. Jack O'Neill led the attack this time with three hits, while Thompson, Cox and Mike Lisi all had two apiece. Cliff Man-

Collecting 16 hits including three home runs, Accelerator broke out of its hitting slump and trounced Columbian Carbon, 12 to 1. Ed Faleiglia hit for the circuit with a single, double, triple and homer; Tony Gervasio went three for four; and Carl Schuler and Jck Nielson contributed four baggers. Jack Barlow pitched his finest game of the season, allowing only four hits.

Heavy hitting RCA 1 racked up its sixth straight, knocking off RCA Astro, 10 to 3. Wally Reichert blasted two more round trippers and had three RBIs; John Meyer and John Hughes both had two hits, and Walt Hlohnbothem had two RBIs. Bob Nielson turned in a fine game on the mound, giving up just five hits.

American Cyanamid assured itself of a third place finish with a 12 to 3 win over McGraw - Hill Office. Joe Wyers had four for four, and Don Kelly and Ray Cevera both three hits, allowing pitcher John Anderson to win his tenth game of the season. Dom Civale and Tom Wood had two safeties apiece for the Office.

In other games, Hopewell TV furfeited to Engineering Research, which has already locked up the Eastern division crown; Opinion Research lost a pair of games, one to ETS, 5 to 1, and a make-up game on Thursday to RCA Astro, 11 to 7. RCA 2, which is battling ETS and McGraw-Hill Warehouse for second place in the eastern division, and a spot in the post-season playoffs lost a squeaker to the Warehouse, 4 to 3, in ten innings. RCA manager Tom Ward played the game under protest after a call by the umpire concerning a ground-rule double.

NINI WINS THREE

Moves Into Playoffs. Nini Plymouth was victorious last week in three straight contests in the Adult Softball League and joined Rocky Hill, Conover Motors and Cenemo's in the post - season playoffs, which were scheduled to start this past Monday.

Jerry Perpetua went three for four, including a four bagger, Ray Cranmum and Brian Smithey both had two hits, and Doug Watson had a triple for the losers.

At this point, Nini was left

Beauty ON THE SQUARE

By Archimedes (Bernard)

Some people seem inclined to attach mysterious causes to ownership or naturally wavy hair. Actually, the cause is simple: a person hair follicles are straight with resultant straight hair, or the follicles are curved, providing wavy hair. Obviously, the greater the follicles are curves the more pronounced the wave.

Although naturally wavy hair is something we are born with, the story doesn't end here. A baby's head changes shape in early childhood, and hair follicles curly in the beginning are likely to straighten.

And, by the way, let's straighten you ladies out on another point. For experience, training, imagination and pride of accomplishment, you can't find better operators and stylists than we have at TAVERNWOOD BEAUTY MANOR & COSMETIC SHOP, 69 Palmer Square West, Princeton. Phone: 924-3983.

Person To Person

Cory S. Kammler

After reading our column on dogs a fellow called to give us more interesting facts. There are some 200 breeds of dogs in the world, of which about 115 are bred in this country. He mentioned the bloodhound. He said, "By training the bloodhound is able to follow footsteps of a particular man though they may cross and crisscross many times and even on bare pavements. It will trail a man but not voluntarily attack him. When the man is located it will prevent escape, but use its great strength only in self-defense, for by nature it is not cruel, but friendly. The name, bloodhound, does not come from his being blood-thirsty, but means only a 'blooded' thoroughbred." If you can trail terrific values and top satisfaction you'll find your way right to our door, where you'll find true bargains!

LITTLEBROOK SCHOOL

Five bedrooms, fireplaced recreation room, and large (16 by 20) screened porch overlooking a sunny yard—these are just a few features of our new exclusive listing. For the large family, there is room and to spare. At least 3 bedrooms are extra large, the other 2 are comfortably generous in size. The kitchen, with its own large breakfast area, together with the paneled "2nd living room" lend themselves to informal family living; the vinyl floored entry hall, gracious living and dining rooms to more formal entertaining. Off the dining room, the spacious porch lends itself equally well to family dinners or informal summer get-togethers.

Built just over 5 years ago by a well known Princeton builder, the house is old enough to have a pleasant, lived-in homey look — with extras such as storms and screens, established planting (including pines bordering 3 sides of the property). After this, a child-filled neighborhood, a pretty Township street and walking distance to school Could you ask for more? At a price of only $49,500

Back View — Princeton Borough

Now being offered for the first time is this authentically-reproduced colonial built in the late 30's and situated on a fabulous acre in the middle of Princeton within walking distance of the University.

Landscaping is superb from the delightful brick terrace and rose garden to the flower bordered walks and beds abounding with bulbs, healthy pachysandra and ajuga. Century old pines border the sweeping back lawn in a garden club setting that is hard to resist. What was a labor of love to create is now practically maintenance free.

The interior is just as charming with its nooks, niches and crannies. The fireplaced living room is a picture with its wide board, pegged floors, smoky blue green paneling on its lower walls, padded window seats, niches for those bibelots and the blessing of the many windows. There is a door to the rear terrace that reveals the sweeping view. The study nook mirror also reflects all the beauties of the outdoors while milady keeps her correspondence up to date and dinner table guests are in the same enviable position.

A beamed "country room" with bookcases is centrally heated but boasts a pot bellied stove for romantic remembrances; it is so truly hideaway it couldn't be found unless you know its location. The guest room and bath, too, is accessible only by separate stairway.

Three bedrooms and 2½ baths complete the main portion of the house, with an informal laundry-playroom for the young fry. Garage for a large car (radar controlled door) and one for a smaller sporty one as well as a partial basement. $67,000

MERCER ROAD . . . sixty years ago, if you were a merchant prince, or a railroad magnate, this is the kind of residence you would commission your architect to draw up plans for. The rooms, of course, had to be large — when you entertained the family, at Christmas, the table must be set for twenty. And the ceilings had to be high— after all, Summer in Princeton, you know . . . And you couldn't ask guests to go upstairs, so there must be a facility near the hall. And you had to have a library— a room all your own, where you could enjoy a cigar in peace and sprawl in that old leather chair you'd become used to. On the second floor — there must be four bedrooms and three baths. A third floor? Well, the youngsters could sleep and romp there. (Add 3 more bedrooms). Outdoors — a large lot had to be found, for you wanted your home to be well back from the road, with a spacious lawn and many shrubs and at least a score of shade trees . . . So . . . today . . . such a home is again available. For today's way of life, some improvements may be needed, perhaps, but, let there be no mistake about one outstanding fact about this fine home — for its entire life, it has been carefully maintained by people who have been devoted to it (its owners). For example, new copper plumbing and complete new wiring was installed just five years ago. It is quite ready to move into . . . and to live in. . .

(Sole Agent) $79,500

OLD COLONIAL . . . only a few miles from Princeton, and quite close to several of our large research facilities, this fine home — part of it a pre-Revolutionary farm house — has been completely modernized. All that remains to be done is some work outdoors. Indoors, there is living room with fireplace, a large dining room with fireplace, a family room leading to the terrace, powder room, a modern kitchen with a huge old fireplace, 5 bedrooms (2 with fireplaces) and 2 baths.

(Sole Agent) $29,500

BRAND NEW . . . and never even lived in! Will be decorated exactly to suit your taste, too. Here are four exceptional homes in the Western Section — three of traditional Colonial design. Each is on a spacious 2-acre plot, with city water and sewer. Prices begin at $65,000. And the owner is in a position to offer much more liberal financing arrangements than are usually available for homes in this high bracket.

Prices on request

STUART HILL . . . are you planning to enter the children in the new Princeton Day Schools? Well then, why not live in that estate area, too? We have two new Colonials, each on a 2-acre wooded plot — one with 5 bedrooms, 3 baths; the other with 6 bedrooms, 4 baths.

(Sole Agent) $79,500 & $89,500

Many fine homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range.
